Dedic

Our paths crossed many times as we journeyed from seventh grade to our graduation.

We knew him as teacher—knowledgeable in many fields, interested in all of life. From our early experiences in seventh grade science, through ninth grade civics, until our Senior year in economics and mathematics, he stood before us as able teacher guiding our learnings.

We knew him as advisor—ready to help us no matter what the personal sacrifice. As Junior Class advisor he was often first to arrive and last to leave as we worked our way through class elections, the Christmas Ball and our spectacular Prom.

But most of all we knew him as friend ready to listen or ready to help. His shy smile that spread quickly beneath two wide blue eyes and burst into a large contagious grin put anyone who spoke with him at ease. His personal warmth and genuine concern for every student endeared him more to us.

It is for these reasons, and the thousands of unspoken and unspeakable ones, that we, the Senior Class of North Carroll High School, most sincerely dedicate this our yearbook to you —our teacher, advisor, and friend—Mr. Samuel Mann.

The faculty of North Carroll is a valuable link in the gap between students and their futures. Willing helpfulness is the characteristics of these people who have chosen to teach and dedicate themselves to the job of educating the students at North Carroll.

They face many obstacles in their profession, yet they tackle each task with eagerness and drive. Theirs is not an eight hour workday for their work continues many hours after the final bell has rung with lesson planning, paper checking, supervising extra-curricular activities, or helping individual students. Always they stand ready to help.

The life of a teacher is a hard life and often they receive but small pay for their efforts. But they teach on —for those who teach are a very special breed.

Faculty

Principal

Frank Mather

Coming to us as former principal of Taneytown High School, Mr. Frank Mather graduated from Western Maryland College, received his Master of Science from New York University and taught at Hampstead and Westminster schools. North Carroll is fortunate to have such a man as Mr. Mather to direct the activities at North Carroll High School.

Congratulations to the members of the Class of 1968. You have completed your high school program at a time when education is more important than ever before. You are about to make a place for yourself in a world that is demanding, but full of challenges and opportunities.

I hope that the years you have spent here at North Carroll have instilled in you those qualities and characteristics essential for success. Regardless of your future plans, it is your duty as a citizen to make the best use of your abilities in making the greatest possible contribution to your community and your country. Remember what you have learned here about our system of government and how it protects your rights as an individual. Be the kind of individual who is a credit to his country, his friends, and his school.

May success and happiness follow you always.

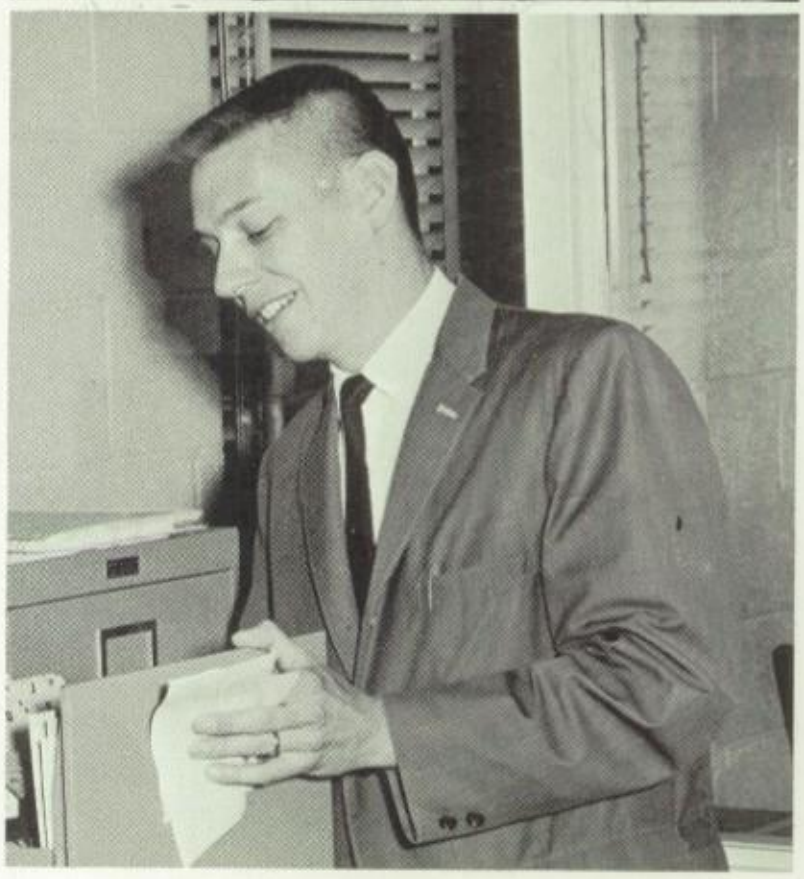
Frank Mather

D. Smart & L. Hoffman—Secretaries

Vice Principals

D. Reck

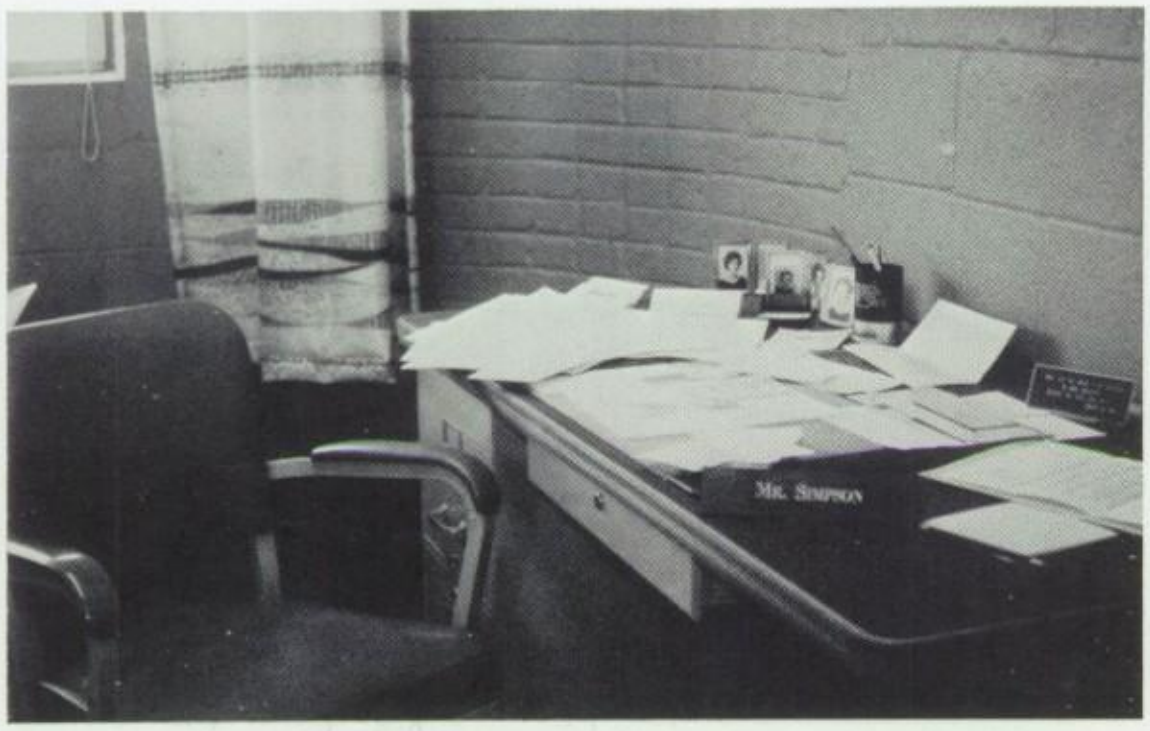
J. Young



The towering figure of Mr. Young with his melodious voice can be seen performing the task of our Senior High Vice Principal. Mr. Young keeps the attendance records and supervises cafeteria operation and student driving and parking facilities. He is also in charge of the daily announcements.

Mr. Reck with his trim figure and neatly pressed suits is continuing to keep North Carroll's Junior High running very efficiently. Besides his role as Vice-Principal, Mr. Reck supervises bus transportation and coaches our wrestling team.

Guidance Counselors



A cluttered desk—a symbol of many hard hours of work.

M. Lippy—Secretary

J. Hale

L. Simpson

Sitting in his familiar swivel chair in the counselor's office, we find Mr. Loren Simpson working diligently with the Senior High classes aiding them in making their selection for their future classes at North Carroll and also their plans for after graduation.

Mrs. June Hale, with her cheerful personality, is always willing to talk with the students. As Junior High Guidance Counselor she aids the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades get on the right foot here at North Carroll. She also helps with the Federal Reading Program.

Mathematics

"The sciences are stepping stones to higher education." The science and mathematics department strives not only to prepare students who continue their education, but to open the mysteries of science and math to all students. Both through classroom discussion and through laboratory experimentation, the guidance of these fine teachers help provide a brighter future for all.

These students are fortunate to be able to both learn and enjoy learning. With the unbeatable combination of Mrs. Ecker's match-making math, Mr. Johnson's firm jaw and wry humor, Mr. Robertson's "unforgettable" biology sessions, Mr. Ensor's failing classroom experiments, and Mr. Tulley's infectious friendliness, science and mathematics become alive and vivid for every student.

"The study of language broadens horizons and increases knowledge."

Communication between the peoples of world today depends upon our understanding of our own and other languages. Knowledge of language not only helps us better express ourselves, but also enables us to learn more about others.

Language is the key to the past, the handle for the knowledge of today, and the door to our future.

Opening this great door is the enthusiasm of such teachers as Mrs. Shoff, Mrs. Kephart, Mr. Small, Miss Roberts, Mrs. Zigler and Mrs. Lord. Mr. Johnson's dignified respect for English literature and Mr. Warner's unorthodox style of teaching lessen the chore of language learning.

Social

Understanding and appreciation are gained for humanity by the study of history. Man must look to the past to guide him in his search for the future. People thousands of miles away become friends and their lives become our own. The social studies department at North Caroll aims to fulfill this goal.

Heading this department is Mr. Mann, backed by many other competent instructors. Comedy is added to the curriculum by Mr. Kelly and Mr. Havens, but learning is not neglected. From the flatlands of Oklahoma, Mr. Farley is extemely welcome to our hallowed halls of learning.

Business Education

Business, the guiding force in the American economic structure, is helped to stay strong and vital through the training received in the North Carroll business education department.

The strong hand of Mr. Bolyard, Mr. Lloyd's hobbling help, and Miss Yingling's wit all aid the students in learning the fundamentals of the business world.

Physical ability is a necessary element for future well-being. The physical education department excels in this job through the superb leadership of its faculty. Miss Young and Mr. McVicker join Mrs. Clendaniel and Mr. Powelson in leading North Carroll to many more championships.

"As the sun colors flowers, so does art color life." The purpose of the arts is to help people to do, to feel, to truly see all the aspects of life. The arts department at North Carroll believes activity and creativity are a facet of every student's life.

Among the many, Mr. Anthony's dimpled visage and Miss Halman's friendly sophistication compose a binding unity of help. Dedicated to agricultural education, Mr. Zigler's years of service are greatly appreciated. Mr. Davis's willingness to help represents the attitude of the entire faculty at North Carroll High School.

Now on the dawn of that long-awaited moment, Graduation, the Seniors of North Carroll, The Class of 1968, stop to meditate on past joys and future hopes. Though young in years, we now face an intersection in our lives. Our successful merger with other traffic on life's road is dependent on our educational experiences during these unforgettable school years.

From uncertain seventh graders, we have grown older with the school—both in mind and in body. From the field of sports to the classroom we have tried to leave our mark on North Carroll. Though friendships made here may be severed at our parting, the memories of these friends and our shared joys can never be erased.

How could any Senior forget our Rival Night, the Class projects, or the spirit of unity that made our class the best? Or, who among us could forget experiences we shared together as we got our driver's license, our report cards, our first jobs or our college acceptances? Though shortly we will cease to be as a class, the spirit that each of us felt as part of this Class will go with us beyond these walls.

Our twelfth year—the final stanza to the song of our school years. Its haunting lyrics will ring in our minds as we part for the future. Our world will be richer for having known you, North Carroll High School.

Elke Tiedt

A welcome addition to North Carroll, Elke Tiedt, our exchange student from Wuppertal, Germany, has brought peppy personality and wit many miles to share with us. Her enthusiasm and spunk have won her a special place in the hearts of her fellow classmates.

Noted for her outstanding scholarship, Elke adds spirit to the Senior Chorus with her lively renditions of American tunes. She is active in many clubs and enjoys all aspects of school life, especially male companionship as German schools are not co-educational. Elke plans to study psychiatry upon her return to Germany.

Despite her cheerful manners, the Senior class will always remember her as the "Sour Kraut."

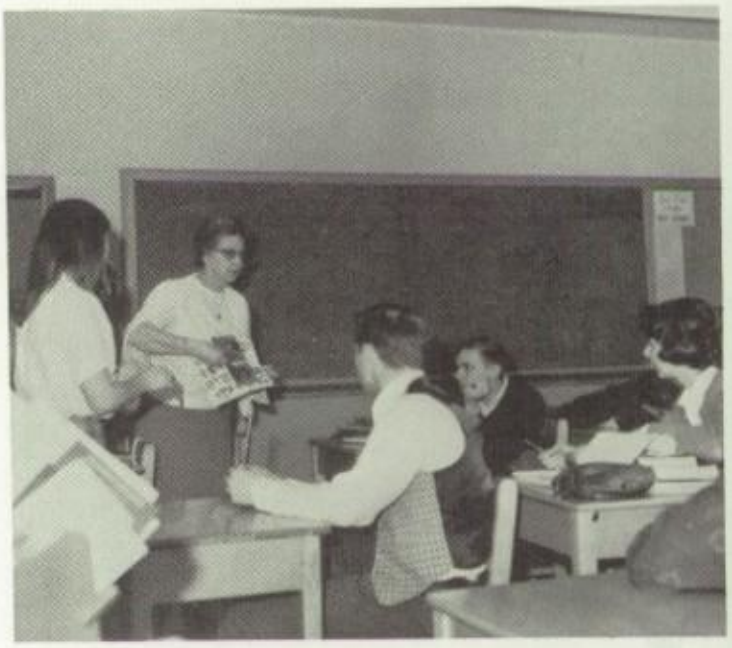
Senior Executive Committee



The nucleus of the Senior Class, the Senior Executive Committee, masterminds the various activities and plans of the Seniors. Composed of the class officers and selected representatives, it is the backbone of annual affairs such as Class Night, the Senior Musical, and Graduation.

Under the leadership of Ginny Heinecke, Class President, the Senior Executive Committee has worked hard to make the Seniors' last year a success.

Senior Advisors

Returning as Senior Advisors are Mrs. Mabel Shoff, Mr. Strephen Johnson, Mr. William Kelly, with newcomer Mr. Douglas Scott. Through their guidance, the Senior Executive Committee formulates plans to make the final year at North Carroll the greatest. Their time and efforts are greatly appreciated by all members of the Class of '68.

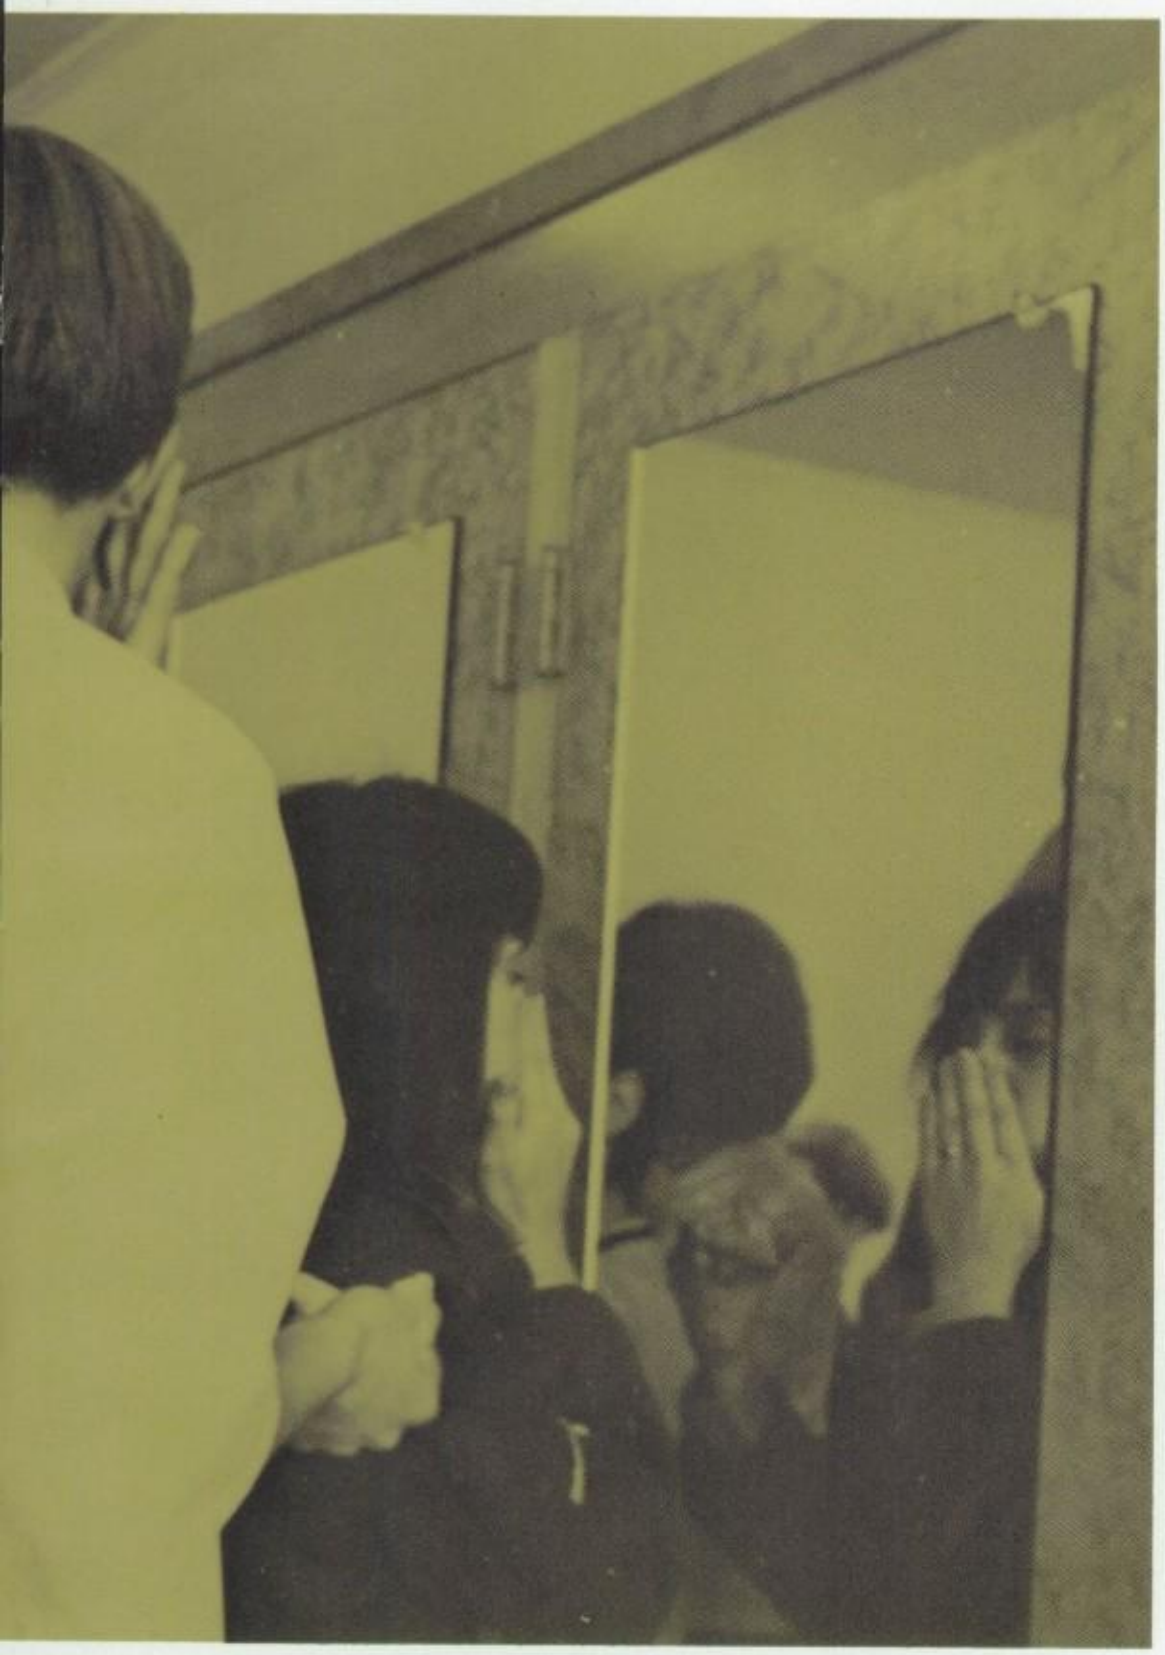
School life is more than the classroom. It is the small, precious moments spent with friends at a club meeting, the fun of play practices, the first dance . . . the list is never ending. Each day is filled with something new. Students revel in the fun and gaiety of school activities. Even studying seems bearable in an atmosphere of assorted pleasures.

The activities of North Carroll range from clubs to sports. Each has a definite purpose and goal, but every activity depends on the willingness of its members to work. Thus students find rewards in their extra-curricular activities which will be beneficial in future experiences.



Activities

Contrasting Scenes Range . . .

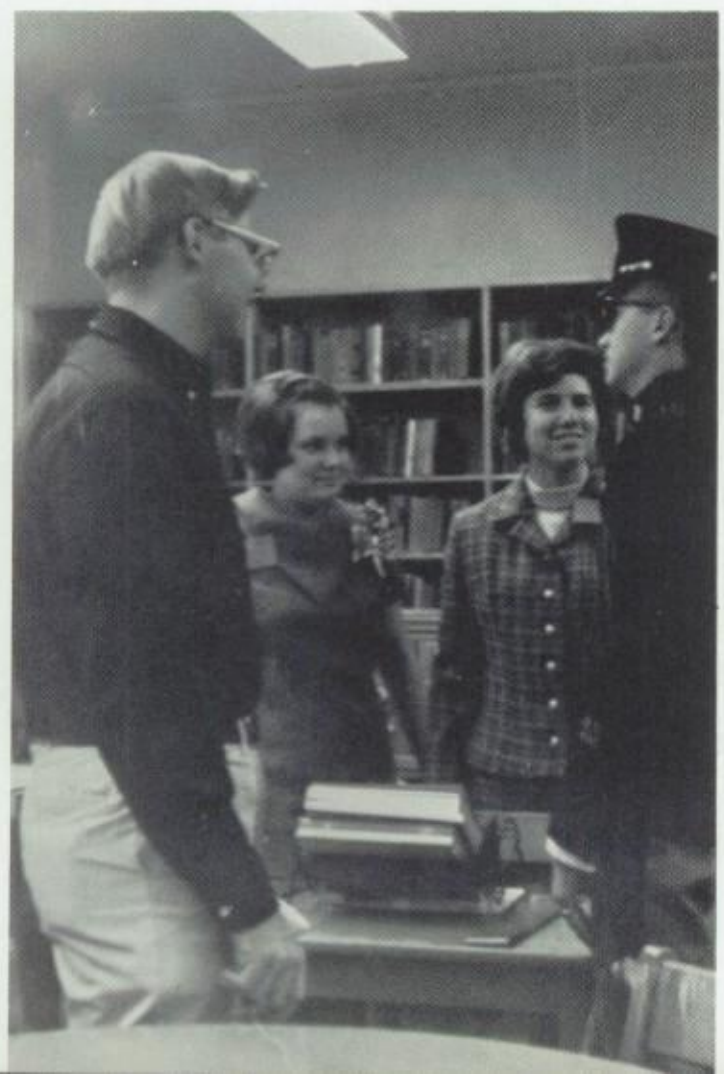
T'was the Week

Before

"Mistletoe Lane" was the theme of the annual Christmas Ball sponsored by the Junior Class. Weeks of preparation concluded on December 23, when the transformation of the South Gym into a Christmas wonderland simulated the mystic spirit of Christmas.

Christmas . . .



The annual FTA tea was held December 21, to welcome the return of North Carroll's alumni. College-bound seniors were given the chance to investigate the mysteries of college life first hand in an informal atmosphere. The FTA feels this is a beneficial means of encompassing all aspects of college in a short time period and will continue in this tradition.

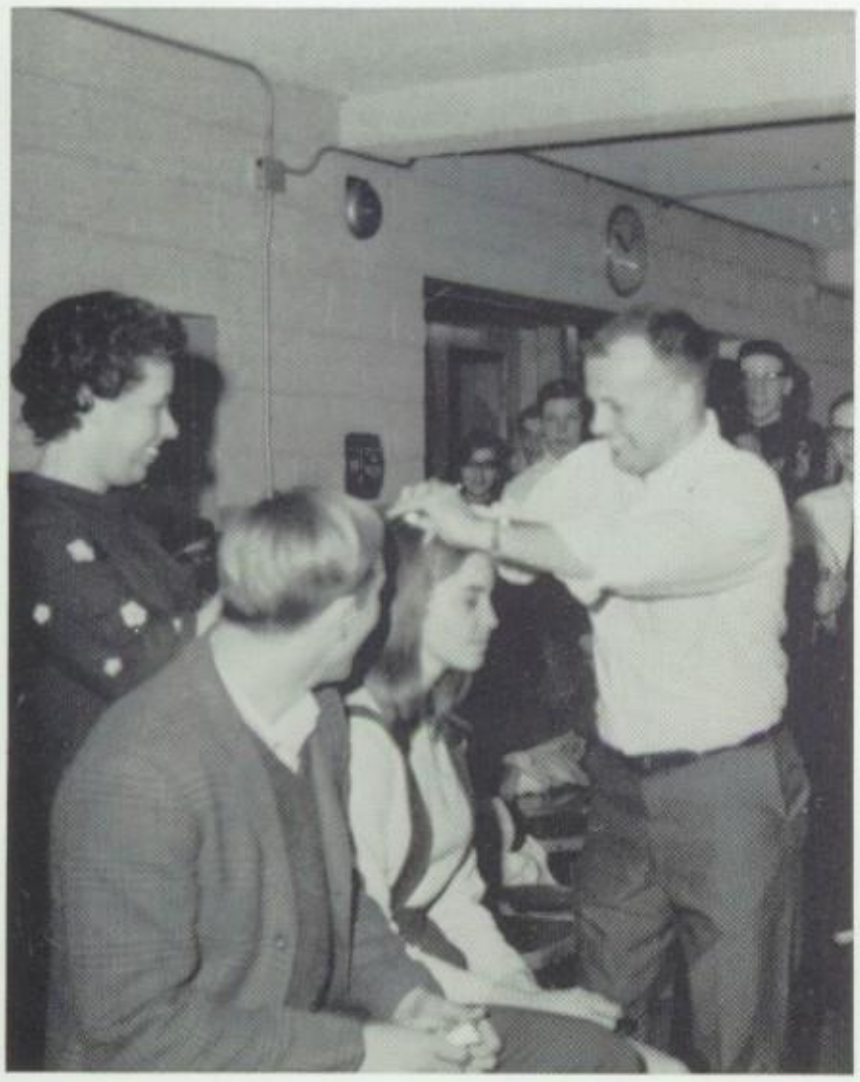
Sports King and Queen



After weeks of anticipation and guessing at the amount of money in the jars, Ginny Heinecke and John Hale were crowned Yearbook King and Queen, by Barbara Shipley of the Class of '67, at the annual dance sponsored by the Quo Vadis Staff. Held after a basketball game with the Exemptions of Westminster as the guest band, the Yearbook Dance was a big success.

Jon Denner and Betsy Rill were crowned Sports King and Queen at the Sports Dance sponsored by the BAA and GAA. Chosen by members of the Varsity athletic teams, Jon and Betsy were crowned by Mr. Powelson and Mrs. Clendaniels, varsity coaches.

Diversified interests demand diversified activities, and students at North Carroll are fortunate to be able to participate in many different and interesting activities. Organizations have successfully blended high ideals of scholarship and character with fun and recreation.

Through these many clubs, students have been able to put what they have learned to work and the school is enriched twofold.

Activities stress looking beyond friends and goals of high school. Envolvement with the community and surrounding country broadens the individual's scope. Participation with others enables students to better understand one another and mold social behavior.

The Student Council is the governing body of North Carroll. It interlocks responsibility between its members, students and administration. Unbiased and always ready for suggestions, it endeavors to promote good citizenship.

Under new leadership, the Student Council has supported a wide range of activities and hopes to initiate new school projects, while maintaining its standards of democratic school management.

Students enjoy an assembly sponsored by the Junior High Student Council.

The Junior High Student Council under the advisorship of Mr. Tulley is the active training ground for the future leaders of the school. The Jr. High Council annually holds nominations, primaries and final balloting as the students learn to select good leaders. They also hold an annual Jr. High dance party and a morning skating party. This years extra activity was a paper drive contest which netted over twenty-two tons of paper.

The Senior Chorus, under the direction of Mr. James Anthony, has provided the school many entertaining moments. For the first time officers were elected to lead the Chorus members throughout the year. Beverly Rupp served as President, as well as pianist; Dale Davidson as Vice President, Judy Alban as Secretary, and Dennis Myers as Treasurer. Gail Thomson and Steve Seitz served as Librarians. A big asset to the Chorus was the purchase of navy blue sweaters to be used as uniforms for performances. The Seniors were fortunate in being able to sing at the Old Senate Office Building in Washington, D. C. This trip was a rewarding and enjoyable experience for all.

Senior Chorus

Junior Chorus

Besides the Senior Chorus, the Junior Chorus helped to add entertainment for the school in the field of music. For the first time the Junior Chorus elected officers to help guide them through the year. They were: Lois Cunningham, President; Mark Gross, Vice President; Rhonda Shifflett, Secretary; and Roger Buchanan, Treasurer. Pianist was Kay Bollinger and Librarians were Cindy Epply and Shirley Baughman.

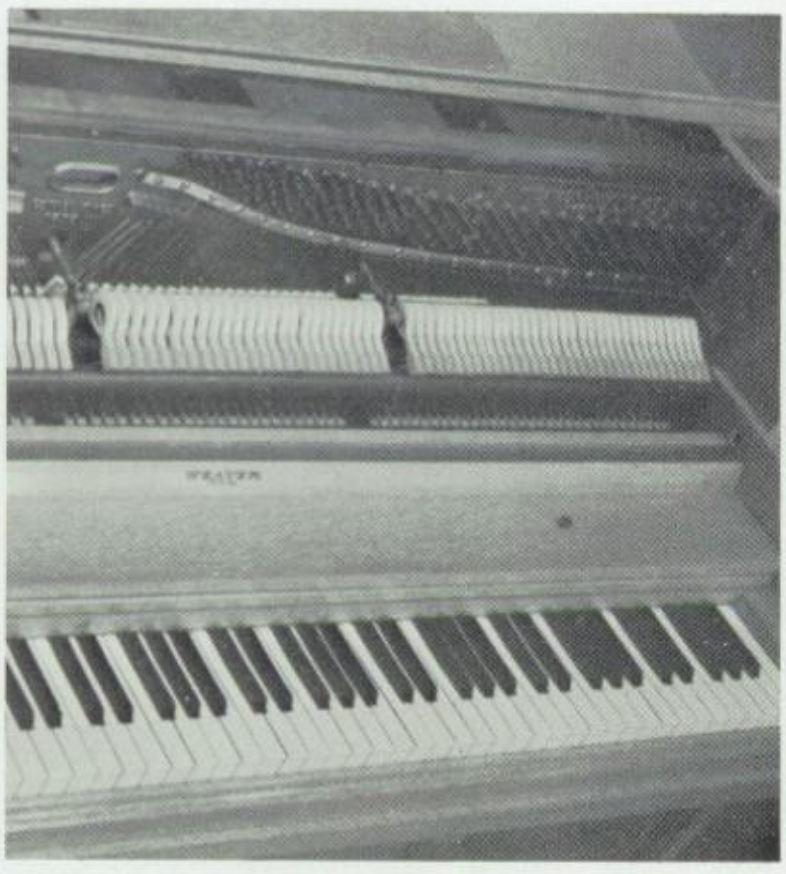
The Juniors that participated in the Junior-Senior Ensemble were: Vicki Lippy, Betty Franklin, Lois Cunningham, Roger Buchanan, Donnie Fair, Mark Gross, and Bruce Lippy.

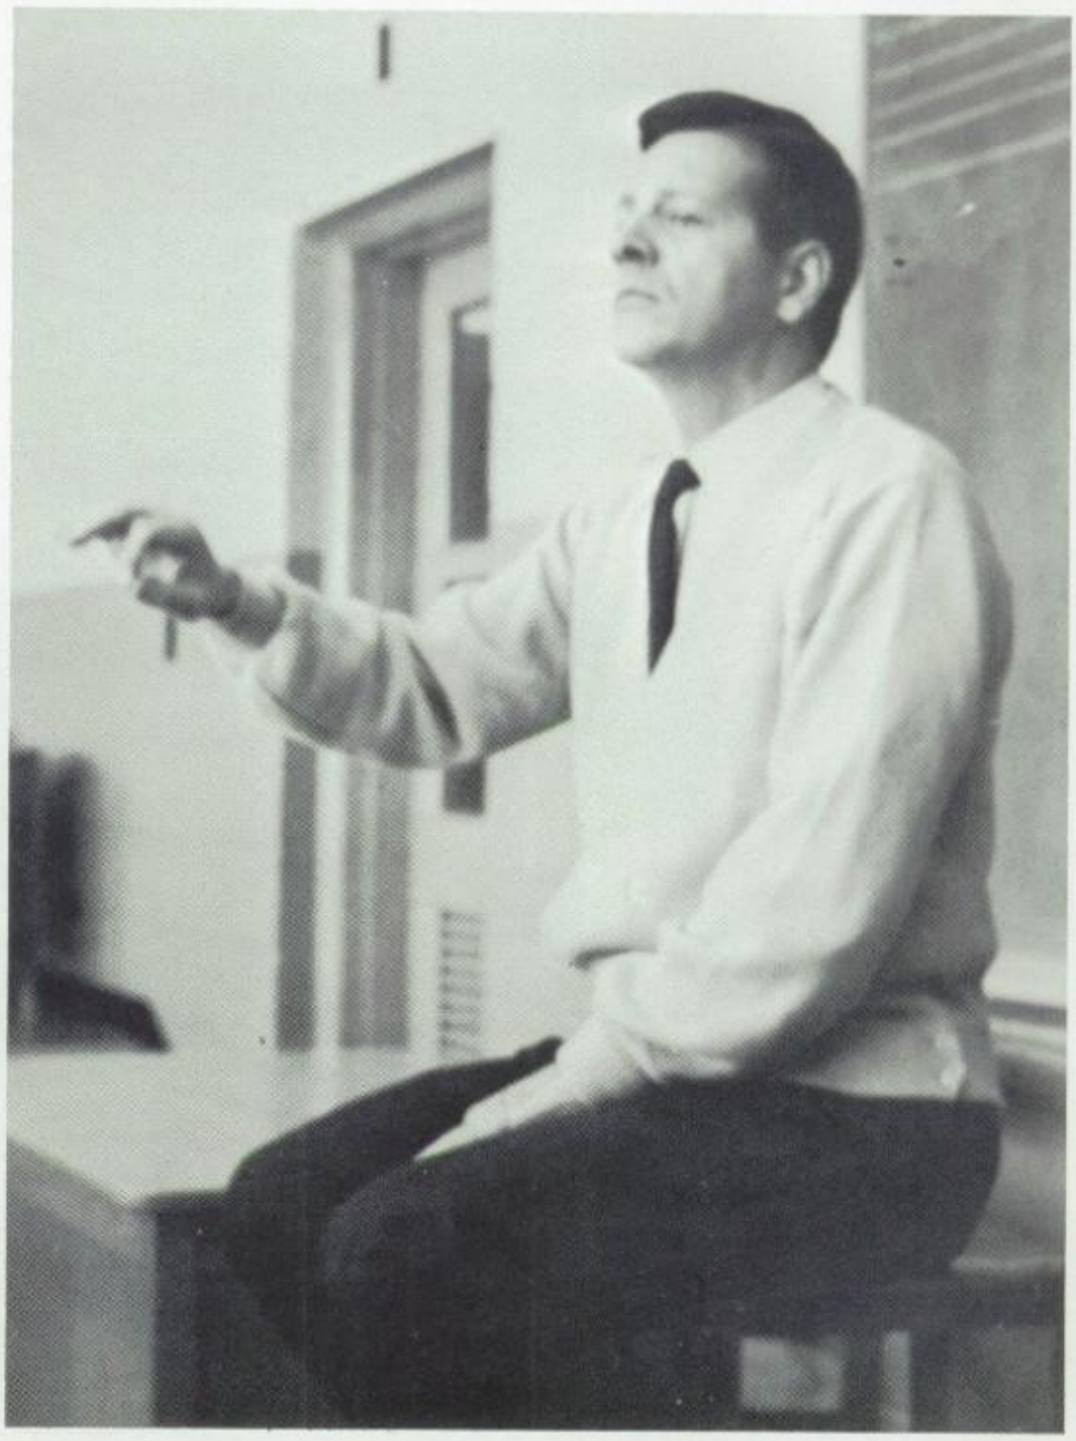
Sophomore Chorus

The Sophomore Chorus also brought musical entertainment to the school. Under the direction of Mr. Anthony with pianists, Debbie Foard and Jeanne Mathias, the Sophomore Chorus had a very successful musical year.

Ninth and Eighth Grade Choruses

The Ninth and Eighth Grade Choruses, under the direction of Mr. Anthony, proved to be very successful. These choruses provide training for the future members of the upper grade choruses.





Bands

North Carroll's bands bring the beauty of music into the lives of its students as they perform a variety of musical selections at programs throughout the school year. Their hard work and superb effort have increased the band's popularity twofold and guaranteed them a standing ovation from their listeners.

GAA

Increasing school spirit, promoting good sportsmanship, and encouraging interest in girls' sports are the main purposes of the Girls' Athletic Association.

Sponsored activities of the GAA include serving banquets and selling cokes at home basketball games. Funds from these activities benefit North Carroll's sports activities.

Drama Club

Born out of love for theatrical arts, the Drama Club is North Carroll's newest organization. Started one year ago, it has expanded not only its membership, but its scope of activities. All aspects, acting, directing, and behind-the-scenes work are stressed to give members a diverse knowledge of the theater. Induction into the National Thespian Society is a goal and reward to those students who contribute much to the dramatic arts.

FTA

Linked together by a common goal—teaching, the members of the FTA labor to obtain the qualities needed for successful teaching. Character, leadership, personality, participation, scholarship and an interest in teaching are the basic qualifications for these future teachers.

An extremely active club, the FTA supports many activities throughout the school year. The highlight of the year is the opportunity for members to teach in the Hampstead and Manchester Elementary Schools.

A vital aspect of North Carroll's curriculum is the sports program. From the basketball court to the hockey field, North Carroll athletes strive to be champions of their chosen sport. Whether winning or losing, good sportsmanship is the underlying goal of every team.

To be a good athlete takes many hours of practice and perseverence. The outstanding athletic record of North Carroll is a factual representation of its students ability and stamina in the physical arts.

'67-'68 has seen many victories and few defeats. Yet win or lose, we are victorious in experience. Congratulations to those who fought for North Carroll's honor in the various sports.

Volleyball

With its outstanding record of previous championships, the Volleyball Team is looking forward to another successful season. Coached by Miss Young, with Vicky Moffitt and Linda Garrett as managers, North Carroll's girls are certain to be County Champs again.

The underclassmen of North Carroll are the backbone of the school's future. They must accept the responsibilities bestowed upon them by the departing seniors and grasp the reins of leadership to continue the tradition of North Carroll's greatness.

While the seniors look forward to the coming year with apprehension, the underclassmen revel in their new status and strive to better the accomplishments of their predecessors.

Without the underclassmen, North Carroll could not survive for it is in the hands of the underclassmen that the future lies.

To make a bigger and better school yearbook requires the support of the surrounding community, not just the backing of those of the school.

The Staff would like to take this opportunity to thank our community merchants and friends who have so generously given of their time and money to help us produce Quo Vadis 1968.
